"Ten Dams On Wilson Creek" Told Rotarians

Paul Hardin, Secretary of East Fork Association, and Senator Ray Roberts, member of Texas Water Resources Commisison, brought to the McKinney Rotary Club reports and discussions of interesting local developments.

Mr. Hardin reported that, as a part of the overall soil and water conservation and flood prevention within the East Fork watershed, ten flood prevention structures (small dams) along the course of Wilson Creek had been approved and that construction will be started as soon as funds are available. Also, four more of these small dams are ready for construction on Honey Creek, bringing the total structures on this tributary to fourteen. Five have been completed and twenty are in the planning stage on Sister Grove.

Senator Roberts presented to the club a clear-cut discussion of the conflicts of interests relating to the water in our tsreams—as is revealed by various bills proposed for legislation.

Since soil and water conservation is such an important factor in the future development of Collin County, both speakers urged that the citizens of our state read all news articles concerning water and soil conservation in order that they may intelligently support their legislators in properly handling all bills relating to the problem of surface water.

Senator Roberts' being a Rotarian and Paul Hardin's being a Lion, the two made a splendid team. The program for the day was under the chairmanship of Rotarian Tommy Lane.

Another highlight of the day in Rotary was Rotarian Geldon Roberts' presentation of a new member, A. C. Lewis, incoming local manager of the Southwestern Bell Telephone.

Mrs. Webb immediately notified police who quickly set a road block.

Window Display Course Will Be Held Next Week

Advance enrollments are still being accepted for the course in Window Display and Show Card Lettering which will start Monday, June 18 with classes being held at the Chamber of Commerce building Two courses, conducted by W. G. Bohannon, Retail Training Specialist of The University of Texas, Division of Extension, are being sponsored by the McKinney Chamber of Commerce.

During the course, enough of the principles of letter construction and sufficient practice will be offered the students to enable them to master the art of handling the lettering brush. Bohannon said. Further information about the two courses may be obtained by calling LI 2-3336 Chamber of Commerce or J. E. Ferguson at J. C. Penny Co.

THE HOME TOWNERS
"THE GREEN LIGHTS ARE ON IN McKINNEY AND COLLIN COUNTY"

▸ SOMEONE ASKED Your Home Towners why so many jet planes were over McKinney Thursday evening. It wasn't jet planes—it was some of our little dumplings with cars making this noise and we believe there is a city ordinance that would take care of this excess noise, or is there?

▼ ▼ ▼

▸ THE MAJORITY of folks in McKinney believe in progress and want it. They are not content to "stand still" and sit idly by and let things just "run." McKinney, like any other town, will not progress unless you have a program of progress and that is what Your Home Towners believe we should have and will have if we have anything to do with it.

▼ ▼ ▼

▸ TWO WEST Texas Ranchers were recently discussing the drouth and they remarked: "If it doesn't come a good rain, I am going to have to rob a bank." The other replied: "If it doesn't come a good rain I have already robbed a bank." Good old Collin County.

▼ ▼ ▼

▸ YOUR HOME Towners friend, Metz Scott, was by to see us this week. Metz lives in Florida and has been with the Florida Power and Light many years. He extended us an invitation to visit him and you can't tell, we might just do that someday when we can get a few days off. Come back to see us, friend Metz.

▼ ▼ ▼

▸ IT WAS good news that Senators Johnson and Daniel and Speaker Sam Rayburn wired Your Home Towners regarding our Veterans Hospital here in McKinney. Hope that we can finally get things settled. This great institution is vitally needed for the care of our Veterans and we claim that it is the best operated Veterans' Hospital in the good old USA.

▼ ▼ ▼

▸ THE JAYCEE Bathing Beauty Contest was a huge success according to Mr. President Dwayne Howell. Dwayne in talking to Your Home Towners wishes to express his deep appreciation for the cooperation that McKinney business firms and individuals gave the Jaycees in this project. The money that was taken in will be used for the operation of the Jaycee Center and its work in McKinney. Thanks be that we have a strong McKinney Junior Chamber of Commerce.

▸ POSSIBILITY THAT the different clubs and organizations will have booths and concessions at the Collin County Fair this year. According to Ex-President George Webb, The McKinney Junior Chamber would like to have "Pete The Python" brought to McKinney from Ft. Worth as one of the attractions. It has been suggested by numerous members of the Jaycee's that John Gay, local attorney be put in charge of "Old Pete." The reason is that John isn't married and if something did happen to Jaycee John well the loss wouldn't be too great. It is also reported from reliable resources that "Old Pete" is harmless and without set of teeth. We heartily recommend Lawyer Gay for this Jaycee project.

▸ McKINNEY'S NEWEST concern, The L. and S. Glass and Mirror Company has opened for business, 206 East Davis Street. The new concern is owned by Bill Sportsman, former McKinney man and son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Sportsman of McKinney and Howard Larkin. Your Home Towners welcome Bill back home and likewise Howard Larkin his partner. Go by and gives these two young men the "glad hand."

Social Security Awards Benefits To 122 Collinites

Old-age benefits under Federal social security were awarded to more than 2,500 of the nation's newly retired workers a day during 1955. In Collin County alone 122 more retired workers were receiving old-age monthly benefits at the end of 1955 than at the beginning of the year, according to figures just released by Mr. Z. E. Avery, district manager in Dallas.

At the end of 1955, 746 retired workers in Collin County were getting monthly old-age benefit payments; in addition, 658 people in this county were receiving monthly benefits as dependents of old-age beneficiaries or as survivors of workers who had died. In the country as a whole the number of persons receiving old-age and survivors insurance benefits increased by nearly 1.1 million in 1955, 16 per cent more than at the end of 1954. Nation-wide, there were almost four and a half million retired workers receiving old-age benefits at the end of 1955 and an additional three and a half million dependent and survivor beneficiaries — wives, husbands, children, mothers, aged widows, widowers and parents.

In Collin County, retired workers were receiving $36,864 monthly in social security payments as 1955 came to a close, Avery said.

Dependents of old-age beneficiaries or survivors of workers who had died were getting $21,720 a month in Collin County at the end of the year. These amounts represent increases of 25 and 28 percent, respectively.

Pointing out the significance of old-age and survivors insurance under social security as a floor of financial protection for the aged, Avery said that in the nation as a whole today, over half of the nonworking aged people are eligible for monthly benefits under the social security program and that in the years ahead the proportion will steadily increase. This, he said, will result primarily from the extension of coverage under the 1954 amendments to approximately 10 million more working people—including most of the nation's farm population.

Children made up a large group of beneficiaries in Collin County in 1955; 270 of them were receiving monthly benefits totaling $2,962 at the end of the year. Most of them were survivors of an insured father or mother who had died, but some were the minor children of retired workers receiving old-age benefits.

If the child of a retired or deceased person is entitled to monthly payments, the child's mother may also be entitled to benefits, regardless of her age. In Collin County at the end of 1955, 66 widowed mothers who were caring for child beneficiaries were receiving $2,612 per month. $4,513 went to aged widows, aged dependent widowers, and aged parents of deceased workers in December 1955. Lump-sum death payments, which can be made regardless of whether or not monthly benefits are also payable totaled $3,793,000 in the State of Texas in 1955.

The Nation-wide total of monthly and lump-sum benefits paid under the old-age and survivors insurance program in the year 1955—$4,855 million—exceeded the total amount paid in the 11½ years from January 1940 through June 1951. By the end of 1955, benefit payments under the program had totaled almost $19.7 billion since the beginning of the program.

The increase in total benefit payments reflects the marked rise in the number of benficiaries and also the larger benefits payable to qualified individuals as a result of the 1950, 1952, and 1954 amendments to the Social Security Act.

While benefits can now be paid for as many as 12 months preceding the month of filing an application, Avery urges everyone to get in touch with his social security office (1) when he reaches age 65, even though he is still working, (2) when he reaches age 72, regardless of the amount of his earnings, or (3) when the family breadwinner dies. People who have been in employment or self-employment covered by old age and survivors insurance but who have become totally disabled should also get in touch with their security office, or have someone do so for them, he said.

The Dallas Social Security office is at 114 Commerce Street and representatives of this office regularly visit the McKinney Chamber of Commerce each Monday morning.

The Daily Vacation Bible School opened Saturday morning at the First Baptist Church. At 11 o'clock the fire truck was loaded with children over nine years and other groups followed in automobiles. The fire truck led the parade as it went up and down every street in Farmersville. The siren blowing at full blast surely let everyone know that something was taking place, and it certainly created a lot of interest. Many of the Farmersville people enjoyed the Water Carnival at Lake Lavon Sunday. The show was sponsored by the East Fork Sportsman Club and proved to be one of the best ever to be staged in North Texas. The Aqua Demons and Debs, a troupe of 20 young people from Orange, Texas, were chief performers and staged a number of spectacular feats, the most outstanding perhaps being the "Flight with Skis" in which the skier took to the water with a big kite. He was pulled by a boat until sufficient speed was reached to lift him from the water. He flew about 100 yards at a height of approximately 40 feet. Another interesting and outstanding feat was Margaret Spradling balancing on one ski while twirling a baton. Clowns Bob Roach and Henry Venable were on hand to entertain between acts. Charlie Webb was director of the show, Charlie Beaver was boat driver, and Hubert Spradling was team captain. One accident occurred when Hubert Spradling, captain of the Aqua Demons and Debs, fell and hit his head on a ski. He was rescued from the water in a semi-conscious state.

Q'Back Edges Out CC; Jaycees Down VFW 8-2

By NORMAN SCOTT

Quarterback edged Chamber of Commerce, 2-1, and the Jaycees downed VFW, 8-2, in the opening games of the 1956 season in Pee Wee League play at Quarterback Field Tuesday night.

In the opening game of the night's doubleheader, the Quarterbackers rallied for 2 runs in the bottom of the sixth for their victory in a well-played game.

The Chamber of Commerce nine behind the pitching of W. Scalf, was leading 1-0 going into the last round when firstbaseman D. Kissinger opened with a single for the Quarterbackers, advanced to second on a wild pitch and moved over to third as the catcher threw wildly to second on the play. Thirdbaseman W. Kissinger doubled to left-center scoring his brother to tie up the game and then completed the circuit on 2 straight wild pitches for the winning marker.

It was a pitcher's duel all the way and some sparkling fielding was turned in by both sides which added up to one of the best played opening games in the Pee Wee since it's organization in 1954.

In the nightcap, the Jaycees jumped off to a 4-run lead in the second inning, and then counted another run in the third and 3 more in the fourth for a commanding margin before the VFW crew scored their 2 markers in the bottom of the fourth.

Harold Burke of the Jaycees held VFW to 2 singles while striking out 8. Arthur Ray Phillips worked the first 3 innings for VFW with Jack Scott taking over for the final 3 rounds. Phillips struck out 3 while Scott whiffed 5, Phillips was the loser.

Firstbaseman Ronnie Terrell of the Jaycees lead the batters in the second game with 3 singles in 4 trips.

Grady Dunn managed the Quarterbackers and Clovis Swanner and H. D. Mouzon III are in charge of the Chamber of Commerce team.

Grady Hardin and Billy Bob Biggs are at the helm of the Jaycees and Norman Scott and Jim Kuykendall handle the VFW lads.

Emory Wins Over Brashear 4 To 3 Score

Gerry White of the Grand Saline Indians, in the Oil Belt League, Emory's newest hurler, was right Friday night as he tossed 3-hit ball to win 4 to 3 over the Brashear Eagles in a Hunt County League game at Ramblers Stadium in Farmersville.

The Emory Wildcats came from behind a 3 to 1 deficit to score three runs in the bottom of the 7th inning as Jim Whatley led the inning off with a triple to deep right field wall. Earl Hill sacrificed to score Whatley for a 3 to 2 score. White, hurler, singled as E. Cook, leftfielder struckout. Joe Joslin was walked and Pat Sisk doubled against right-centerfield wall to score White and Joslin to earn Emory a 4 to 3 win over the Eagles.

This put a four way tie for the second place spot in the Hunt County League with the Farmersville Ramblers, Commerce Tigers, Brashear Eagles and Emory Wildcats each with 2 wins and 1 loss record.

John Follis was also hurling excellent ball for the Eagles as he scattered five hits to the Emory hitters.

Work On Highway Between Garland And Wylie Is Underway

Work was well underway last week on the new Highway 78, from Wylie to Garland, through Sachse.

Good progress was being made on the work, which began about three weeks ago. Grading of the seven-mile stretch of road from here to a point northeast of Garland was well underway, and work had begun on the bridges over both Rowlett and Muddy Creeks.

The Spencer Construction Co. of Carrollton is the prime contractor on the job.

The road is being widened and straightened and will parallel the Santa Fe railroad between Wylie and Garland, eliminating the numerous dangerous curves now existing on the present route.

W. E. (Bill) Williams, former Wylie resident and now employed by the Texas Highway Department, will supervise construction on the new road.

Completion of the new route is expected by late 1957.

The volume of traffic on Highway 78 has steadily increased the past few months, particularly since completion of Lake Lavon. Week-end traffic is exceedingly heavy. Need for the new road has been grave for a long time and it has been the target of the efforts of local civic and business leaders for some time.

Hints Offered On Hay Making Practices . . .

The quality of the hay crop can be materially affected by practices employed in connection with cutting, curing, and storing.

Quality of the crop is affected by th stage of growth of the hay plants at cutting time. In general, the younger the crop at cutting time, the higher the quality but the lower the yield. Therefore, the crop must be cut at a stage of growth that gives the best compromise between yield and quality.

The best stage for cutting Costal Bermuda is when the plants are 16-18 inches high; for bluestem, boot to early bloom; Johnsongrass and Sudan, boot stage; sorghums, hard dough stage or later.

For legumes, cut alfalf: when when the plants are in the heigth to a fourth bloom stage. Cowpeas when the first pods turn yellow and before the lower leaves begin to drop; sweetclover in the bud stage just before blooming and vetch when in full bloom.

As for curing, the usual practice in making legume hay is to cut, wilt and windrow the plants. Windrowing is necessary to prevent the loss of leaves. Grasses may be left in the swath after cutting until almost ready to bale. Curing of both legumes and grass should be completed as quickly as possible to preserve quality—sunlight, rain, and dew lower quality. Over curing results in losses of leaves, nutrients dry matter and color. Undercured hay, however, is high in moisture and often heats, molds, and spoils. Hay usually can be safely baled and stored when the moisture percent is 18 per cent or lower.

Texans interested in seeing their poultry industry keep pace with the national industry will get an opportunity to pick up the kind of information to help them do the job on June 20-22. The 3-day poultry breeder and hatchery school and health clinic program to be conducted at Texas A & M College will bring those attending the latest. findings from research and practical experiences on poultry problem.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture reports that Kansas tests made in 1952 indicate that moisture infiltration into the soil, an important factor in crop and pasture production in limited rainfall areas of the Great Plains, evidently is unaffected by deep tillage and adversely affected by burning over native grasses.

"House Fly Control in Dairy Barns, 1955" is the title of Progress Report 1867 while in available from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station. Dairymen will find it chuck-full of valuable information on a problem they face each summer.

Shopping Tips for Buying Dresses

Smart shopping techniques save time and money. Here are a few tips for summer ready-to-wear shoppers.

Fit is very important. Wear a good foundation garment and take time to try on the garment properly. Check the fit at neckline, shoulder seam, armscye, seams, darts, and waistline. See if the length is right for you. The hem fold should appear an even distance from the floor all the way around. Ease is important for style and comfort. Sit in the garment to make sure there is enough ease in the skirt.

Check garment construction. lonug stitches cheapen a garment. Twelve stitches per inch is a minimum for most fabrics. Seams should be at least one-half inch wide to allow for a good finish and alteration, if needed. Width of the hem should be appropriate to the fabric and the cut of the skirt.

Check the trim used. It should be suited to the garment, wetll applied and of equal quality to that found in the dress. Buttons or other closures should be of good quality so they won't crack or peel in wear, or warp or melt with heat.

More shopping tips for buying dresses may be found in Extension bulletin "Wardrobe Dollars and Sense." Get a copy at my office today.

Plan Summer Fun For All The Family . . .

Recreation and summertime just naturally seem to go together. Wholesome recreation is a year-round need for old and young alike. Most of us are realizing that fact all the time. It's part of the training program in much of our work with 4-H clubs, home demonstramunities.

With summertime at hand, youngsters out of school, and lots of parties, picinics and family gatherings planned, this is a good time to take a look ahead. Call a family conference sometime soon to plan for the best use of leisure time, energy and recreational dollars for summer months.

Next, plan time for recreation in the family schedule. Talking this over often helps family members to see how adjustment can be made so that everyone has some individual time for recreation, and that all members plan some time for family receration — at least once weekly.

Next, plan and provide a place that's comfortable and adequate for each family member. For indoor recreation, an unused room or basement would make an ideal room for the T. V., piano, record player, radio or indoor games. For outdoor recreation, the family might arrange a court for horseshoes, volley ball, badminton or croquet. A cement porch or driveway makes a good shuffleboard court. The garage or car port provides lots of enjoyment. If you are really ambitious, the family might develop an outdoor living room for all forms of recreation.

Money is usually an item in planning recreation. Family and community recreation can help keep costs down. Check on the recreation provided in your own community and county for this summer.

Van Alstyne School Building Remodeled; Class Rooms Added

The 47-year-old school building at Van Alstyne, will be reduced, to a one-story building, the second story of the building to be removed. The building was erected in 1909. When the remodeling is completed the new structure will be modern, with an additional five classrooms added.

A crew of workmen started dismantling the upper brick walls. Some of the materials taken from the old high school building will be used in the construction of the new classroom building.

Since the erection of the new high school building, the basement of the old building has not been used for classrooms. When the old building was erected, the late W. F. Barnett was superintendent.

For some years the board has accumulated money, and this is to be used to pay for the remodeling and for the new classroom building, without the necessity of voting a bond issue. When the new high school was built from proceeds of a bond issue, it was then the plan of the school board to use the surplus funds on hand to pay off these bonds ahead of time. Due to the fact that the roof of the old building was leaking badly and would have to reroofed, it was decided to take off the second floor and build a classroom building.

South Collin Town Gets 1000th Phone

The Texas Telephone Company, which operates an exchange in Plano, recently installed its 1000th telephone in that fast growing South Collin town. The phone was installed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. White, 905 19th Street.

The telephone growth in Plano has increased in proportion to the steady rise in population. Company officials recall that the station count reached 500 in 1949 and has increased steadily, each year, reaching its' peak growth in 1955 by adding 123 telephones for the year. All indications are for even bigger annual gains as Plano's industrial family grows and industrial development keeps pace with the city's growth.

J. L. Doyle and Misses Ollie and Nettie Doyle, of Twin Bridges, attended the homecoming at the Celina School Sunday.

Mesdames Ella B. Jay and Corine Reaves, of Tracy, Calif., have been visiting relatives and friends in McKinney.

Miss Fielder Is Bride Of WeldonShinpaugh

The marriage of Miss Sherry Yvonne Fielder and Airman Weldon D. Shinpaugh, of Celina, was performed at the First Baptist Church Thursday evening, June 7 at 8 o'clock, with Dr. Charles E. Myers, pastor of the church, officiating with the impressive double-ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Fielder of McKinney and Mr. and Mrs. Dave Shinpaugh, of Celina.

The ceremony was performed before a white wrought-iron arch entwined with pink and white carnations and fern. On either side were baskets of pink and white gladioli and stock, while the background was an embankment of potted palms. Floor standards held white tapers, twisted with pearls. Billy and Charles Erwin, cousins of the bride, lighted the candles.

The prenuptial music was presented by Charles Carman, soloist and Mrs. Charles Myers, organist. Mr. Carman sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Mr. Fielder gave his daughter in marriage. She was lovely in a bridal gown of white nylon lace and net over taffeta. The fitted, strapless bodice was of lace, while the gathered, waltz length skirt was encircled with rows of lace and net ruffles, with an inset of net at the front of the full skirt. A short lace jacket was fastened down the front with tiny satin buttons, and the bonnet shaped headpiece held a shoulder-length veil of illusion. The bride wore white lace mitts and carried a white Bible topped with an orchid tied with satin streamers.

Miss Patricia Roach was maid of hnor, dressed in pink net over matching taffeta and carried a bouquet of pink sweetheart roses. The flower girl, Little Miss Cynthia Huggins, of Fort Worth, wore a pink organdy frock, with a bandeau of sweetheart rosebuds.

William Thomas Carrell, of Frisco attended the bridegroom as best man. Ushers were Wayne Phillips and James D. Kimbrell, and Dudley Ivie was ring bearer.

The reception for the wedding guests was held in the church parlors where the bride's chosen colors of pink and white were used. Baskets of flowers in these hues were used throughout. The bride's table was covered in a pale pink cloth and centered with pink gladioli, stock and carnations, arranged on a reflector. The four-tiered wedding cake was white, embossed in pink rosebuds. Punch was served from a crystal bowl.

Misses Janet Long and Judy Howell cut the cake while Misses Sharon Clark and Linda Kimbell poured punch. The guests were registered by Miss Martha McWhorter.

The newlyweds left for a short wedding trip to Lake Murray, Okla., after which they will return to McKinney to reside. For traveling Mrs. Shinpaugh chose a turquoise crystalline and taffeta dress with which she wore flesh pink accessories.
